Planning of Tasks

- We have decided as a group that everyone writes tests for their own code.
- We have also decided that the person who codes the backend for a feature will code the frontend.

Git Etiquette

As a group we have all agreed to the following:

- One branch per feature
- Adding a “development” branch where features will be tested before merging to master.
- Someone other than the coder must ‘approve’ the merge request with an emoji/comment before merging to master.
